

Plugging In to OpenSolaris

Beijing OpenSolaris Users Group

Mark J. Nelson
ON Nevada Tech Lead
Sun Microsystems, Inc.

Why?

- Sun
 - The N-Brain Rule
 - The Conversation
 - The Community
- You
 - It's Big
 - It's New
 - The Community

Where to Plug In

- Start with <http://www.opensolaris.org/>
- Find a Community
- Participate in the Community
 - Read the discussions
 - Ask questions
 - As you learn more, answer questions

...and what to do next

- Look around on <http://bugs.opensolaris.org/>
- If you find something, connect to request-sponsor@opensolaris.org
- If you don't find something, ask!

Do

- Participate
 - Read the discussions
 - Ask questions
 - As you learn more, answer questions
- Get Feedback
 - Early
 - Often
 - Inexpensive

Why?

- Sun
 - The N-Brain Rule
 - The Conversation
 - The Community
- You
 - It's Big
 - It's New
 - The Community

Do Not

- Work in a vacuum
 - It's lonely
 - There's nobody there to learn from
- Wait until you're done to ask for review
 - If you must change something, it's expensive
 - It's much harder

How we work inside Sun

Solaris

- Product Team

ON Graphics Admin Install

- Consolidation Teams

Crypto ZFS SMF Greyhound

- Implementation Teams

Real people!

- Engineers

The first thing that changes...

Solaris

- Product Team

ON Graphics Admin Install

- Consolidation Teams

Crypto ZFS SMF Greyhound

- Implementation Teams

You!

- Engineers